

Weekly Prayer Bulletin

Week 3 | 23 April 2020

“We wait in hope for the Lord;
he is our help and shield.”

(Psalm 33:20)

Please continue to pray for teaching staff, support staff, parents and all pupils who have been affected by Coronavirus. Please remember all in the school community who are still working in school and for those pupils in school of key workers or those who are vulnerable.

We have some families that are facing really serious illness, not due to Coronavirus, so please remember them and that God would sustain them at this time.

Give thanks that some of our families affected by Coronavirus have now been restored to good health and are back on the frontline working for the NHS. Pray that God would continue to protect and help them as they care for others.

Please pray for families who are facing tragic circumstances at the moment that can be quite overwhelming. Pray that they would get the support and help that they need at this time.

Continue to pray for the Prime Minister as he continues his recovery, and for all the Ministers and politicians in both government and opposition as they seek to manage the current situation well.

Remember in prayer shop workers who go to work daily; often with little or no protection in the workplace.

Pray for their safety and protection.

Please remember those pupils in our community who have recently lost parents and loved ones. Pray that God would sustain them at this time and be a comfort to them. Pray that they would find strength to deal with the difficulties of a funeral under the current regulations.

The situation in care homes continues to cause much concern for relatives and those working there. Please continue to remember all our local care homes and staff as they manage Covid-19 and its spread.
